

Trimming

DIRECTORY 2010

A competent, knowledgeable trimmer can help lift your classic car from a standard restoration to a car that wins trophies. He or she may know about authentic materials for your particular model and where to find them. Vinyl roofs, soft tops and roof linings present special problems to restorers that often require an expert. Special finishes, dashboards and appropriate knobs, handles and steering wheels are as basic to the originality of your interior as the upholstery, so when in doubt or at a loss for special fabrics, leather, rubber, carpets, wood and trim, consult this list. Several specialise in European or American cars, or vehicles of a single marque, and can connect you with little-known sources for just what you need. You'll find long-established family businesses here too, run by enthusiasts who will pay attention to your requirements.

Rob Brewer trained as a carpenter from age 16, but his love of cars brought him to veneering and polishing woodwork for cars of all makes and models. He'll also add woodwork as a custom feature to models without wood. He was a house builder before suffering a severe accident while foreman on a building site, injuring his arm. Although he continued later as a builder for a while, after the economic slump of the 1980s he was able to buy Carwood and devote himself to car woodwork refurbishment. He also happens to have been on the Jaguar Club's concours committee for seven years. Rob maintains that although woodworking takes time, you can't rush perfection.

WAYNE'S WOODGRAINING & STEERING WHEEL RESTORATIONS

T 02 4957 3696, 0407 017 919

wdevonsh@bigpond.net.au

Anyone who has ever attempted artificial woodgraining on metal will recognise the skill it requires. Wayne Devonshire has a keen eye for detail and can suggest ideas to enhance and restore the woodgrain appearance to dashboard and garnish moulds. Wayne can also produce a 'pearl finish' if required. Starting in the building trade, he has worked extensively with wood and learned to duplicate its appearance. His polishing and spray painting skills and artistic ability combine to give a professional and unique result. Wayne works with customers to achieve the desired effect and is a classic car fan, too.
